

BATTLE
Bradwell And Tillingham Tackling Lost Environment

BATTLE FIGHTS BACK

Our fight against the Bradwell Wind Farm Development took a significant step forward this week when the Secretary of State failed to defend our legal challenge and agreed to pay Battle's reasonable costs. This is basically an admission that the Inspector's decision to approve the development was fundamentally flawed and we were right to challenge it.

But the fight is not over yet.

There are a number of options open to the Government and NPower and we must wait and see what their next step is.

But it is certain that without the support and financial backing of supporters across the Dengie this would not have been possible.

We are taking legal advice on how best to proceed and will give you further updates as and when they are available
